Communication skills

In my former positions as a Leader in a restaurant and as a waiter in a hotel, I had to improve my communication skills, so I can give a proper and warm service to each customer, ensuring that they enjoy their stay in both the hotel and the restaurant. I have been working with customers and their experiences for almost 10 years and the main objective is to give them a great and pleasant experience.

Leadership

I worked at Fast Food Sudamericana, in their Burger King branch since 2012, but I was a Production Leader from 2015 until my departure in 2021. This position comprised not only a great experience for customers but also a workload full of responsibilities concerning my team, which I was in charge of ensuring that their performance was the best it could be in every work shift, placing my working team in the positions they were the best in, so that every operation was performed proficiently.
